

Consecrate Yourself is not the typical daily reading plan, intended to start your day positively. These devotions were written and assembled during the Lenten season while a congregation of young adults and college students were fasting for clarity and seeking purpose. In other words, these devotions were used as a foundation for transformation. Participants chose to abstain from certain foods (e.g., the Daniel Fast, no Fast Food, No candy, No sugar, etc.) and activities (clubbing, cursing, sex, etc.). Simultaneously, participants committed to attending church regularly, reading the Bible daily, exercising consistently, or engaging in some other activity that would build up positive healthy habits. The goal was to build the body and the spirit. If you are looking for transformation, motivation, and intimacy with the Lord, this is the devotion for you. We encourage you to make a similar commitment. Consecrate Yourself and seek Gods face one day at a time.
