

This is a short collection of articles by a WWII-era US author who appears to have been influenced by New Thought, and to a lesser extent, Theosophy. He offers plain answers, without any metaphysical jargon, to the big questions, including Where do animals go when they die?. (Quote from sacred-texts.com)About the Author Florence Scovel Shinn (1871 - 1940) Florence Scovell Shinn (1871 - 1940) was an artist-turned spiritual teacher, healer and writer who lived in New York. She is best known for her first book The Game of Life and how to Play it (1925), which includes quotes from the Bible and real-life anecdotes to explain the authors understanding of God and man. Florence Scovel Shinn may be considered a member of the New Thought movement, as her writings follow in the tradition of Phineas Quimby (1802 - 1866), Emma Curtis Hopkins (1849-1925), and Charles Fillmore (1854 - 1948) and Myrtle Fillmore (1845 - 1931), co-founders of the Unity Church. Scovel Shinn was also a contemporary of William Walker Atkinson (1862 - 1932), James Allen (1864 - 1912) and Emmet Fox (1886 - 1951). Scovel Shinn writes that ignorance of or carelessness with the application of various Laws of Metaphysics (see below) can bring about undesirable life events.
