

This collection contains ten short concert pieces for actors: eight solos, one duet and a trio, with mimes. They are set, in time, from the fifteenth century to the day before yesterday and the speakers differ in nationality, social class and formality of language. What they have in common is that each piece is an entree into a particular world at a turning point, or at some revelatory point in the speakers life--a single moment which implies or reveals the unspoken, often unrealized, complexities of that life.
